

LABOR UNIONS ENTER POLITICS

Phoenix, Ariz., March 19.—The beginning of the movement of the Arizona Federation of Labor to enter politics actively became manifest today, with an announcement that a call had been issued throughout the state for local unions and district organizations to meet on March 22 and elect delegates to county conventions to be held in Phoenix at a date to be set later, it was stated.

In regard to the proposed course of action, P. J. K. McBride, counsel for the Arizona Federation of Labor, said today:

"The state convention will name upon the candidates of the present political parties and will indicate those whom it considers unfavorable to the cause of organized labor. The movement is in line with the decision of the American Federation of Labor to enter into politics."

Asked what action would be taken if the labor convention were to decide both or all candidates for an office were unfavorable to organized labor, Mr. McBride said:

"Then the convention would nominate a candidate."
